Part 2. Information about this petition.

In order to electronically process your application, you must provide information for the items marked * below.

If filing an H-1B, the Congressionally mandated annual cap limit for the H-1B Visa Program for the current fiscal year has been reached. However, H-1B petitions for Nonimmigrant Workers subject to this limit can still be E-Filed. If you elect to file your petition, please ensure that the "date of intended employment" is not within the current fiscal year. Failure to follow these guidelines will result in processing delays and possibly denial of your petition.

If you select H2A or H2B from the drop-down list the system will allow you to include "unnamed workers" on the an I-129 petition

Requested

Nonimmigrant
Classification: *

Basis for Classification: New Employment
(Check one) *

- Continuation of previously approved employment without change
- Change in previously approved employment
- New concurrent employment

Prior Petition.
If you checked other than "New Employment" in item 2 (above) give the most recent prior petition number for the worker(s):

Example Petition

If both named and unnamed workers on the I-129 petition then these two fields would fill out in the following way.

NOTE: That this example involves a petition with 5 named workers and 5 unnamed workers.

Part 2. Information about the employer filing this petition.

In order to electronically process your application, you must provide information for the items marked * below.

Total number of unnamed workers: *

4

STEP 1 - Enter "4" for total number of unnamed workers (i.e. one less than the actual number of unnamed workers).

Total number of workers in petition:
