FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER, EXAMINATIONS

Terrence M. O'Reilly, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The preference visa petition was denied by the Director, Texas Service Center. The matter is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a Texas corporation that claims to be engaged in landscaping and maintenance. The petitioner further claims to be a subsidiary of [REDACTED], located in [REDACTED].

The petitioner seeks to classify the beneficiary as a multinational executive or manager pursuant to section 203(b)(1)(C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(1)(C), to serve as the president. The director determined that the petitioner had not established that a qualifying relationship exists between the petitioner and the claimed parent company, or that the foreign entity is a multinational corporation.

On appeal, counsel argues that the beneficiary is eligible for the benefit sought.

Section 203(b) of the Act states, in pertinent part:

- (1) Priority Workers. -- Visas shall first be made available . . . to qualified immigrants who are aliens described in any of the following subparagraphs (A) through (C):

* * *

(C) Certain Multinational Executives and Managers. -- An alien is described in this subparagraph if the alien, in the 3 years preceding the time of the alien's application for classification and admission into the United States under this subparagraph, has been employed for at least 1 year by a firm or corporation or other legal entity or an affiliate or subsidiary thereof and who seeks to enter the United States in order to continue to render services to the same employer or to a subsidiary or affiliate thereof in a capacity that is managerial or executive.

The first issue to be examined is whether a qualifying relationship exists between the petitioner and the claimed parent company.

8 C.F.R. 204.5(j)(2) states in pertinent part:

Affiliate means:

(A) One of two subsidiaries both of which are owned and controlled by the same parent or individual;

(B) One of two legal entities owned and controlled by the same group of individuals, each individual owning and controlling approximately the same share or proportion of each entity;

Subsidiary means a firm, corporation, or other legal entity of which a parent owns, directly or indirectly, more than half of the entity and controls the entity; or owns, directly or indirectly, half of the entity and controls the entity; or owns, directly or indirectly, 50 percent of a 50-50 joint venture and has equal control and veto power over the entity; or owns, directly or indirectly, less than half of the entity, but in fact controls the entity.

The visa classification that the petitioner seeks is intended for multinational executives and managers. The language of the statute specifically limits this visa classification to those executives and managers who have previously worked abroad for at least one year in the preceding three for the overseas entity, and are coming to the United States to work for the same entity, or its affiliate or subsidiary. In order to qualify for this visa classification, the petitioner must establish that there is a qualifying relationship between the United States and foreign entities, in that the petitioning company is the same employer or an affiliate or subsidiary of the overseas company.

The petitioner submitted its articles of incorporation which indicated that it had the authority to issue 1,000 shares. The petitioner also submitted a letter dated October 31, 1990, which was signed by [REDACTED] the County Clerk of [REDACTED] [REDACTED] indicated that [REDACTED] was the owner of [REDACTED]

On appeal, counsel states that [REDACTED] finances the activities of its subsidiary, [REDACTED] the United States." The petitioner has not submitted any documentary evidence that establishes that a qualifying relationship exists between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. Counsel states that the United States-based company is a subsidiary of [REDACTED] however, no independent, corroborative evidence was submitted in support of this assertion. Simply going on record without supporting documentary evidence is not sufficient for purposes of meeting the burden of proof in these proceedings. See Matter of Treasure Craft of California, 14 I&N Dec. 190 (Reg. Comm. 1972). Accordingly, the petitioner has not established that a qualifying relationship exists between it and the foreign-based company.

The next issue in the director's decision is whether the foreign-based company is a multinational corporation. As was previously discussed, however, a relationship between the petitioner and the foreign-based company has not been established. As such, the business practices of the foreign-based company need not be examined at this time.

The burden of proving eligibility for the benefit sought remains entirely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
