FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER, EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Weimann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a figure skating club. It desires to continue to employ the beneficiaries as figure skating instructors for a period of 11 months. The Department of Labor determined that a temporary labor certification by the Secretary of Labor could not be made because the employer is only offering part-time employment and part-time employment is not certifiable. The director determined that the petitioner had not established that the position is of a temporary nature.

On appeal, the petitioner states that it needs male professionals to partner dances and give lessons to members of its club. The petitioner also states that the originally filed papers were for 11 months and were advertized as such, however, as of the date of her letter, October 20, 2000, there are only seven possible months remaining.

Section 101(a)(15)(H)(ii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(15)(H)(ii), defines an H-2B temporary worker as:

an alien...having a residence in a foreign country which he has no intention of abandoning, who is coming temporarily to the United States to perform other temporary service or labor if unemployed persons capable of performing such service or labor cannot be found in this country, but this clause shall not apply to graduates of medical schools coming to the United States to perform services as members of the medical profession....

Matter of Artee Corp., 18 I&N Dec. 366 (Comm. 1982), as codified in current regulations at 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(6)(ii), specified that the test for determining whether an alien is coming "temporarily" to the United States to "perform temporary services or labor" is whether the need of the petitioner for the duties to be performed is temporary. It is the nature of the need, not the nature of the duties, that is controlling. See 55 Fed. Reg. 2616 (1990).

As a general rule, the period of the petitioner's need must be a year or less, although there may be extraordinary circumstances where the temporary services or labor might last longer than one year. The petitioner's need for the services or labor must be a one-time occurrence, a seasonal need, a peakload need, or an intermittent need. 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(6)(ii)(B).

The petition indicates that the dates of intended employment for the beneficiaries are from July 1, 2000 until May 31, 2001. The petition also indicates that the employment is seasonal.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(6)(ii)(B)(2) states that for the nature of the petitioner's need to be a seasonal need, the petitioner must establish that the services or labor is traditionally tied to a season of the year by an event or pattern and is of a recurring nature. The petitioner shall specify the period(s) of time during each year in which it does not need the services or labor. The employment is not seasonal if the period during which the services or labor is not needed is unpredictable or subject to change or is considered a vacation period for the petitioner's permanent employees.

The petitioner's letter dated October 20, 2000 states that the originally filed papers were for an 11-month period and were advertised as such. The petitioner's need for figure skating instructors for 11 months out of every year does not show that the petitioner supplements its permanent staff on a temporary basis. Eleven months out of every year cannot be considered temporary as there is only one month out of the year in which the petitioner operates with its permanent employees. It appears that the petitioner has a permanent need for the beneficiaries. The petitioner has not shown that the nature of its need for figure skating instructors is temporary in nature.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. Here, the petitioner has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
